Long-term back-up support to a London care home

We provided a full back-up power service for a large care home in London, which required a standby generator for a long-term hire.

The team installed and maintained a 150kVA generator from our hire fleet. The generator remained on long-term hire to the care home for 6 years, during which time we carried out all service and maintenance and fuel management.

When it came to deinstallation, our skilled crane operator navigated the tree and lamppost – neither of which had been in situ when the generator was first installed – leaving both entirely unscathed.
